

UNEARTHED

Shaping culturally creative followers of Jesus

LET'S DO DINNER!

For 2010's last Unearthed (yes, it's that time of the year again!) we have the rare and wonderful opportunity to 'chew the fat' with Andrew Palmer, Australian Baptist Youth Ministry guru and director.

What does real faith in real practice in real community look like?

Over the past two decades there's been a massive shift in culture that has led to criticism of both old and new models of practicing faith. Now our faith communities either stick with traditions that they know, or experiment with something completely different. But do either of these guarantee an authentic Jesus-centred church?

Over dinner, we'll have an honest conversation with Andrew and explore some of the key ingredients for a healthy faith and mission.
