

LINDSAY AND JANE ROBERTSON

Theological Education in Hong Kong

- Helping students grow in their walk with God and in the knowledge of the scriptures.
- Enhancing the God-given gifts and abilities of students and church leaders so that they can serve the church more effectively.
- Inspiring them to share the message of Jesus Christ with others.

Experienced in leadership

Lindsay and Jane Robertson are dedicated to helping churches grow. They first represented Australian Baptists in Asia through a teaching role at the Kakwang Professional Academy in China, 1989-1990.

From 1991 to 1994, Lindsay used his teaching ability and skills in leadership training to equip church leaders for ministry through the Baptist Theological Seminary in Singapore. Jane, who has a nursing background, built strong relationships in the local community and church. Her natural counselling gifts were enhanced by training in pastoral counseling and psychology, and benefited many people.

Between 1994 and 1997, Lindsay completed doctoral studies at Oxford University in the United Kingdom. The family then moved to Hong Kong, where they have been working with the Hong Kong Baptist Seminary.

Hong Kong Baptist Theological Seminary

Founded by Baptist church leaders, the Seminary has grown from a handful of students in 1951 to cater now for many hundreds of students, on and off campus. The seminary offers a wide range of courses through to doctoral level.

Lindsay teaches in the graduate school in the college. As well as his lecturing and administrative responsibilities, he writes theological articles and preaches at local churches.

Over the years, Jane has accepted primary responsibility for the care of David (9.10.90) and Rachel (26.4.93) who are rapidly growing up and are exceptionally talented academically. In addition, Jane helps in the graduates' office of the seminary and assists at the school the children attend. Lindsay and Jane are both actively involved in a local church in preaching, training, Bible study leadership and much more.
